3. Introduction

Trafalgar School is a highly inclusive school where we focus on the well-being and progress of every child and where all members of our community are of equal worth.

We believe that the Equality Act provides a framework to support our commitment to valuing diversity, tackling discrimination, promoting equality and fostering good relationships between people. It also ensures that we continue to tackle issues of disadvantage and underachievement of different groups.

As a UNICEF 'Rights Respecting' school we recognise that these duties reflect international human rights standards as expressed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities, and the Human Rights Act 1998.

Our approach to equality is based on the following 7 key principles:

1. All people are of equal value. Whether or not they have a disability, whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status, whatever their gender and gender identity, whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background and whatever their sexual orientation.
2. We recognise, respect and value difference and understand that diversity is a strength. We take account of differences and strive to remove barriers and disadvantages which people may face, in relation to disability, ethnicity, gender, religion, belief or faith and sexual orientation. We believe that diversity is a strength, which should be respected and celebrated by all those who learn, teach and visit here.
3. We foster positive attitudes and relationships. We actively promote positive attitudes and mutual respect between groups and communities different from each other.
4. We foster a shared sense of cohesion and belonging. We want all members of our school community to feel a sense of belonging within the school and wider community and to feel that they are respected and able to participate fully in school life.
5. We observe good equalities practice for our staff. We ensure that policies and procedures benefit all employees and potential employees in all aspects of their work, including in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development.
6. We have the highest expectations of all our children. We expect that all students can make good progress and achieve to their highest potential.
7. We work to raise standards for all students ensuring we provide effective support for the most vulnerable. We believe that improving the quality of education for the most vulnerable groups of students raises standards across the whole school.

4. Purpose of the Policy

The Equality Act 2010 was introduced to ensure protection from discrimination, harassment and victimisation on the grounds of specific characteristics (referred to as protected characteristics). This means that schools cannot discriminate against students or treat them less favourably because of their sex (gender), race, disability, religion or belief, gender reassignment, sexual orientation or pregnancy or maternity.

Age and marriage and civil partnership are also "protected characteristics" but are not relevant for equalities provision related to students.

This policy describes how the school is meeting these statutory duties and is in line with national guidance. It includes information about how the school is complying with the Public Sector Equality Duty and also provides guidance to staff and outside visitors about our approach to promoting equality.

The Public Sector Equality Duty requires schools to:

- have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination
- advance equality of opportunity
- foster good relations between different people when carrying out their activities
- publish information to show compliance with the Equality Duty
- publish equality objectives at least every 4 years which are specific and measurable

Appendix 1 is a checklist of key equality considerations

5. Development of this Policy

When developing the policy we took account of the DfE guidance on the Equality Act 2010 and also the OFSTED inspection framework 2018, which places a strong focus on improving the learning and progress of different groups and on closing gaps in standards.

We note that OFSTED has a statutory duty to report on the outcomes and provision for students who are identified as having Special Education Needs and Disability (SEND).

6. Links to other Policies and Documentation

Although this policy is the key document for information about our approach to equalities in line with the Public Sector Equality Duty, we ensure that information about our responsibilities under the Equality Act are also addressed and considered in our School Improvement Plan.

There are also references in the Behaviour, Admissions, Special Education Needs and Disability (SEND), Anti-bullying policy and the Accessibility Plan.

The Equality Act also applies to schools in their role as employers, and the way we comply with this are found in our Recruitment policy.

7. What we are doing to eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation?

- We take account of equality issues in relation to admissions and exclusions; the way we provide education for our students and the way we provide access for students to facilities and services
- We are aware of the Reasonable Adjustment duty for students with disabilities – designed to enhance access and participation to the level of other students without disabilities and stop students with disabilities being placed at a disadvantage compared to their peers
- The Executive Headteacher ensures that all appointment panels give due regard to this policy so that no one is discriminated against when it comes to employment, promotion or training opportunities
- We consult with a range of different stakeholders in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones
- We take seriously the need to consider the equality implications when we develop, adapt and review any policy or procedure and whenever we make significant decisions about the day today life of the school
- We actively promote equality and diversity through the curriculum and by creating an environment which champions respect for all
- Our admissions arrangements are fair and transparent, and we do not discriminate against students by treating them less favourably on the grounds of their sex, race, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity

7.1 Behaviour, Exclusions and Attendance

The Behaviour Policy takes account of the duties under the Equality Act. We make reasonable, appropriate and flexible adjustment for students with disabilities. We closely monitor data on exclusions and absence from school for evidence of over-representation of different groups and take action promptly to address concerns.

7.2 Addressing racist, homophobic and other prejudice based behaviour

The school challenges all forms of racist and homophobic behaviour and other prejudice based behaviour which stand in the way of fulfilling our commitment to inclusion and equality:

- prejudices around race, religion or belief, for example anti-Semitism and Islamophobia, Travellers, migrants, refugees and people seeking asylum
- prejudices around gender and sexual orientation, including homophobic and transphobic attitudes
- prejudices around Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND)

There is guidance in the staff handbook on how incidents should be identified, assessed, recorded and dealt with. We treat all bullying incidents equally seriously.

We keep a record of incidents of racist and homophobic behaviour and provide a report to the governors about the numbers, types and seriousness of incidents at our school and how we dealt with them. We review this data termly and take action to reduce incidents.

8. What we are doing to advance equality of opportunity between different groups

- We know the needs of our school population very well and collect and analyse data in order to inform our planning and identify targets to achieve improvements.
- We have procedures, working in partnership with parents and carers, to identify children who have a disability through the admissions procedures.
- We collect data and monitor progress and outcomes of different groups of students and use this data to support school improvement. We take action to close any gaps, for example, for those making slow progress in acquiring age- appropriate literacy and numeracy skills.

We regularly produce and analyse data on:

- the school population by gender and ethnicity.
- the number of students identified with a special educational need and/or disability and by their primary need or disability
- inequalities of outcome and participation, related to ethnicity, gender and special educational need and/or disability and those students for whom English is an additional language.
- standards reached by different groups across all year groups

We also collect, analyse and use data in relation to attendance and exclusions of different groups.

- We are aware that the legislation relates mainly to current but also to future students – we are for example, sufficiently prepared if a student with a disability joins our school.
- We avoid language that runs the risk of placing a ceiling on any students' achievement or that seeks to define their potential as learners, such as "less able".
- We use a range of teaching strategies that ensures we meet the needs of all students.
- We provide support and consider appropriate intervention to students at risk of underachieving.
- We are alert and proactive about the potentially damaging impact of negative language in matters such as race, gender, disability and sexuality.
- In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between, for example:
 - People with health conditions or impairments with those who do not
 - Those with a learning disability (ies) and those who do not
 - Students of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds
 - Girls and boys
- We ensure equality of access for all students to a broad and balanced curriculum, removing barriers to participation where necessary.

- We are also implementing an Accessibility Plan designed to:
 - increase the extent to which students with disability can participate in the curriculum
 - improve the physical environment
 - respond to specialist advice to improved accessibility

We will take positive and proportionate action to address the disadvantage faced by particular groups of students. Data is rigorously and routinely examined to focus school improvement planning. As a result, actions are planned for, and actioned, as evidenced in the School Improvement Plan and in the school's Equality Objectives.

9. What are we doing to foster good relations?

- We are a relationships led school where restorative practice runs through everything we do.
- We are a UNICEF Rights Respecting School.
- We teach students about the rights of children as detailed in the UNCRC
- We prepare our students for life in a diverse society and ensure that there are activities across the curriculum that promotes the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of our students.
- We teach about difference and diversity and the impact of stereotyping, prejudice and discrimination through PSHE, Personal Development Days, Personal Development Curriculum and across the curriculum.
- We use materials and resources that reflect the diversity of the school, population and local community in terms of race, gender, sexual identity and disability, avoiding stereotyping.
- We promote a whole school ethos and values that challenge prejudice based discriminatory language, attitudes and behaviour.
- We provide opportunities for students to appreciate their own culture and celebrate the diversity of other cultures.
- We include the contribution of different cultures to world history and that promote positive images of people.
- We provide opportunities for students to listen to a range of opinions and empathise with different experiences.
- We promote positive messages about equality and diversity through displays, assemblies, Personal Development Days, the Personal Development Curriculum, PSHE and whole school events eg Anti-Bullying week etc.
- We include Equalities matters in our School Magazine, the school website and our social media.

9.1 Other ways we address equality issues

We have a rolling programme for reviewing all of our school policies in relation to equalities and their impact on the progress, safety and well-being of our students. The implications for equalities of new policies and practices are considered before they are introduced

In order to ensure that the work we are doing on equalities meets the needs of the whole school community we:

- review relevant feedback from parent questionnaires, parents' evening, parent-school forum and/or focus meetings.
- secure and analyse responses from staff surveys, staff meetings and training events.
- review feedback and responses from the children and groups of children, from the school council, PSHE lessons, student surveys etc.
- carefully consider issues raised in Education and Health Care plan meetings and other support plans used.

10. Publishing equality objectives

The objectives which we identify represent our school's priorities and are the outcome of a careful review of and analysis of data and other evidence. They also take into account national and local priorities and issues.

We evaluate our success in meeting the Public Service Equality Duties by the extent to which we achieve improved outcomes for the different groups. We produce Equality Data Analysis (Progress review data for example), which informs our discussions about the Equality Objectives.

10.1 Our Equality Objectives are:

- To continue to refine the monitoring for underperformance of students who are disadvantaged & SEND and to implement effective interventions.

- To continue to develop interventions for disadvantaged and SEND students – to monitor the effectiveness of these.

These are made explicit in the School Improvement Plan (SIP) with clear success criteria. The SIP is shared amongst all staff who all contribute to implementing actions to meet these objectives.

10.2 Monitoring and reviewing objectives

We review and update the SIP at least half termly and report regularly to the governing body on progress towards achieving them. We involve and consult staff, students, governors and parents and carers.

We are aiming to publish an evaluation of the success in meeting these School Improvement objectives for parents and carers, on the school website.

11. Roles and Responsibilities

We expect all members of the school community and visitors to support our commitment to promoting equalities and meeting the requirements of the Equality Act. We will provide training, guidance and information to enable them to do this.

11.1 Governing Body

The governing body is responsible for ensuring that the school complies with legislation, and that this policy and its related procedures and action plans are implemented. A member of the governing body has a watching brief regarding this policy.

Every governing body committee keeps aspects of the school's commitment to the Equality Duty under review, for example, in terms of standards, curriculum, admissions, exclusions, personnel issues and the school environment. Governors annually review the Equality Policy and evaluate the success of the school's Equalities Work taking account of quantitative evidence (eg. data) and qualitative evidence (eg. surveys)

11.2 Executive Headteacher and Leadership Team

The Executive Headteacher is responsible for implementing the policy; for ensuring that all staff are aware of their responsibilities and are given appropriate training and support; and for taking appropriate action in any cases of unlawful discrimination.

11.3 School Staff

School staff will:

- promote an inclusive and collaborative ethos in their classroom
- challenge prejudice and discrimination
- deal fairly and professionally with any prejudice-related incidents that may occur
- plan and deliver a broad and balanced curriculum that reflect the school's principles, for example, in providing materials that give positive images in terms of race, gender and disability
- maintain the highest expectations of success for all students
- support different groups of students in their class through differentiated planning and teaching, especially those who may (sometimes temporarily) find aspects of academic learning difficult
- keep up-to-date with equalities legislation relevant to their work

We will provide training and guidance on Equalities for all staff new to the school as part of the induction procedure. We will draw the expectations and duties of the Equality Act to the whole staff following the annual policy review.

11.4 Visitors

All visitors to the school, including parents and carers are expected to support our commitment to equalities and comply with the duties set out in this policy.

12. Equal Opportunities for Staff

This section deals with aspects of equal opportunities relating to staff. We are committed to the implementation of equal opportunities principles and the monitoring and active promotion of equality in all aspects of staffing and employment.

All staff appointments and promotions are made on the basis of merit and ability and in compliance with the law.

We also ensure wherever possible that the staffing of the school reflects the diversity of our community.

As an employer we strive to ensure that we eliminate discrimination and harassment in our employment practice and actively promote equality across all groups within our workforce.

We respect the religious beliefs and practice of all staff, students and parents, and comply with reasonable requests relating to religious observance and practice.

We ensure that all staff, including support and administrative staff, receive appropriate training and opportunities for professional development, both as individuals and as groups or teams.

13. Monitoring and Reviewing the Policy

We review the information about equalities in the policy annually and make adjustments as appropriate carefully considering views of students, staff, governors and parents and carers.

14. Sharing this Policy

The Equality Policy, which includes the Equality Objectives, is available on the school website.

We will take opportunities to celebrate the work we are doing toward meeting the equality objectives through the school website, the school newsletter, assemblies, staff meetings and other communications.
