

Parent Bulletin

12th December 2025

Here's your weekly roundup of what's been happening at Trafalgar.

Thank you to all the parents and students who attended our Year 11 Parents' Evening last night. The atmosphere was warm and purposeful, with lots of productive conversations following the release of mock exam results earlier in the day. We truly appreciate your engagement and support.

It's also been wonderful to see such a festive spirit around school this week during our House Christmas lunches. Students and staff alike have enjoyed celebrating together and embracing the run-up to the holiday season.

Looking ahead, our annual Year 7 Panto trip takes place next week—a much-loved tradition that always brings plenty of laughter and excitement.

With just one more week to go before we break for Christmas, we encourage everyone to keep the energy going right through to the end of term. We're also looking forward to our celebration assembly at Mountbatten, which is always a highlight. Please be reminded that students will finish at the earlier time of 12:30pm next Friday.

As we head into the final stretch, the effort and positivity shown across the school continues to make us incredibly proud. A special well done to all our winners so far in the 12 Days of Christmas attendance competition, we hope you've enjoyed your free food, hampers and vouchers — with 5 days remaining to win prizes, let's keep up the great work and finish the term strong!

Stay safe and take care,
Team Trafalgar

Return of the Pack!

A huge thank you to the University of Portsmouth and Portsmouth Football Club for coming in to talk to our Year 8 and 9 students about the many exciting careers you can have in the world of sport. Whether you're interested in coaching, sports science, marketing, or even running a club, students got to see just how many different jobs there are in this fast-moving industry.

We'd also like to give a special thank you to Portsmouth FC's Marlon Pack for returning to share his football journey. He spoke honestly about the dedication, resilience, and hard work it takes to succeed, and he answered students' questions with real enthusiasm. His story was inspiring and encouraged everyone to think about what's possible for their own futures.

Opportunities like this are so important in helping young people explore new ideas and make confident choices about their careers.

Play up Pompey!

Christmas Hamper Donations – Supporting Our Community

As we enter the festive season, we are once again inviting families to support our student's Christmas Hamper House Competition, which provides much-needed supplies to local food banks. Winter is an especially busy time for these services, and your contributions of non-perishable items will make a meaningful difference to families in our community.

We are asking students to bring in non-perishable food items or toiletries to contribute to their tutor group's Christmas hamper. Tutors will collect these items in school as part of the competition.

Suggested donations include:

- Tinned goods: soup, beans, spaghetti, vegetables, tomatoes, fruit
- Packets: pasta, rice, noodles, biscuits, cereal, crisps
- Drinks: tea, coffee, squash
- Festive treats: chocolates, sweets, Christmas puddings, candy canes, and (nearer the 17th) mince pies
- Toiletries: shampoo, conditioner, body wash, toilet roll

Items should be brought in by 17th December, when the competition will be judged before the hampers are delivered to a local food bank.

Thank you for your continued generosity and support. Your contributions help us teach our students about kindness, community, and caring for others at Christmas.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about TOY SCALPING, FAKES & SCAMS

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

FINANCIAL PRESSURE AND MANIPULATION

Scalpers create artificial scarcity by buying up large quantities of stock before the public has a fair chance to purchase. This drives up demand and pushes prices to extreme levels. Young people may feel intense pressure to spend more than they can afford for fear of missing out entirely.

EXPLOITATION OF FANDOMS

Scalping often targets popular releases with strong fan bases, knowing that loyal followers are emotionally invested. Children and young people may place huge value on owning certain items linked to their favourite artists, sports teams or games, making them more likely to accept unfair prices or questionable sellers.

ACCESSING UNSAFE WEBSITES

In the rush to secure rare items, young people might click through to unverified sellers, online marketplaces with little consumer protection, or even sites designed specifically to harvest personal and financial data. This can expose them to fraud, malware, and identity theft.

Online scalping is when individuals or groups use automated software (bots) to bulk-buy high-demand items – such as gaming consoles, concert tickets, limited-edition trainers, or exclusive merchandise – with the intention of reselling them at vastly inflated prices. It's a fast-moving online trend that can frustrate young consumers and expose them to misleading practices or financial harm. As this unethical tactic grows, it's important to help children and young people understand how scalping works and how to navigate it responsibly.

NORMALISING UNETHICAL BEHAVIOUR

Some influencers and online communities present scalping as a clever money-making scheme rather than an exploitative one. This can normalise dishonest behaviour and blur the line between legitimate business and opportunistic profiteering for younger audiences.

RISK OF SCAMS OR COUNTERFEIT GOODS

Not every high-priced resale is legitimate. Fraudulent sellers may take payment for goods they never send, or ship counterfeit versions of branded items. In some cases, the product may look authentic in photos but turn out to be of poor quality or completely different from what was advertised.

REINFORCING INEQUALITY

Scalping makes already expensive items even less accessible, particularly for lower-income families. Children may feel excluded from trends or shared experiences with friends if their family cannot meet the inflated prices, which can lead to with feelings of isolation and disappointment.

Advice for Parents & Educators

TALK ABOUT ONLINE FAIRNESS

Use scalping as an opportunity to discuss fairness, consumer ethics, and how some people exploit markets for profit. Encouraging children to think critically about whether they truly need an item – and at what cost – can help them make more considered decisions.

SUPPORT INFORMED PURCHASING

Show children how to check seller credentials, read independent reviews, and verify whether a site is secure before making any payment. Knowing how to spot red flags, such as unrealistic promises or missing contact details, can prevent costly mistakes.

ENCOURAGE PATIENCE OVER IMPULSE

Teach young people to wait for official restocks or future releases instead of paying over the odds. Many products come back into circulation, and patience can save significant amounts of money while reducing the likelihood of falling victim to scams.

SET SPENDING BOUNDARIES

Establish clear rules for online spending, including limits on prepaid cards, gaming gift cards, and online wallets. Discuss the real-world value of money spent on digital or collector's items so children understand the long-term impact of their purchases.
